

3pk manual

Level LV3 Only

Boat Mode BOAT-MODE

DEFINITIONS:

- Boat mode: Set ups to fit specific needs of boat models rather than cars.
- TRG-BRK: Trigger-brake operation. Shifts off brake side of servo movement for boats without braking reverse.
- Tilt Mixing: adjusts outboard engine positioning with rudder inputs, and adjusts rudder with outboard engine adjustments.
- Channel 1 > 3: mix from steering (rudder) to outboard. Utilized when the boat drops too much (or too little) into the water when giving rudder input.
- Channel 3 > 1: mixing from outboard to steering (rudder). Utilized when the torque of the engine has more effect as the boat's position changes in the water, causing the boat to yaw left under acceleration.

AVAILABLE FOR: NA

ADJUSTABILITY:

- TRG-BRK: Normal (brake operates); cut-off (no brake/reverse operation).
- CH 1-3 and CH 3-1: -100% (moves exactly opposite) to 0 (no mix) to +100% (moves exactly the same as master)

INTERACTIONS:

- EPA, steering expo, speed, dual rate, etc., all affect the 3rd channel (master mixing is on and can not be set to off.)
- Reversing the channel 1 servo does NOT reverse the channel 3 servo.

DESIRED END RESULT: Keep outboard-powered boat up on its step and traveling straight at high speeds/rapid acceleration, and adjust the boat's angle in the water for ideal turning with minimum drag.

CAUTION: Remember, EPA of channel 1 affects channel 3, so check for binding after all changes.

The 3PK uses a new, specialized module, the PK, which can transmit not only in PPM and PCM but also HRS. 7. It is truly a command to move the servo to a set position regardless of other inputs, including trigger. Traditionally, dual rate on a car radio is used to describe a single rate that can be adjusted while driving. Dual rates on aircraft radios, and on the 3PK, provide the user 2 separate amounts of travel available at the push of a switch. Use idleup to increase the idle for starting only. IDLEUP Nitro boat engine is difficult to shut off. Use engine cut part of autostart to shut engine off at end of run.

Since there's 3 color choices and no where to choose a color you assume one means one pack of three. Don't be fooled. And I have a middle school boy you got PINK and so it has to go back. Great price for three, lousy price for one manual sharpener and description is deceiving due to what I noted above. Thought I was getting 3. When they called it a 1 pack and showed 3 sharpeners, I thought it was 1 pack of 3. Many of the other adds showed multiple sharpeners which were sold as a pack. Thinking of returning but don't even know if it's worth my time. The picture shows three pencil sharpeners. I needed three pencil sharpeners. I would have never bought ONE pencil sharpener for this price. Switch it to one photo so people can SEE what they are buying. I didn't think I had to read a review for a freaking kid pencil sharpener. My bad.
